A majority of the registered freeholders in each of the two districts of Western Palm Beach County have voted to provide more and better hospital facilities of their own instead of a joint venture.

Over 65 percent of the eligible 2,538 freeholders turned out Tuesday to vote in one of the most controversial campaigns in the Glades in years.

With the final tallying, including 56 absentee voters counted on Wednesday, assistant County Registrar Louis J. Morell reported a grand total of 964 votes cast for retaining separate hospitals, against 647 for the joint proposal. Of the total 1611 votes cast, the issue carried with a 317 majority.

Following weeks of intensive campaigning on both sides, voters from both the North and South areas appeared mainly relieved that the contest is over. Board members were anxious to get on with their work of carrying out the expressed desires of the tax payers.

Community efforts toward cooperation in keeping our present facilities adequate until new and modern ones are ready for use.

No hospital will perform best without modern buildings and facilities provided by their Board. To this must be added a corps of efficient and cooperative medical men and women proud of the Hospital and the Board.

Most important is a public of taxpayers and patients confident of the ability of the medical profession - pridelful of their tools and work - and a wholehearted trust in the administration of the medical facilities.

Physical Exam For School Age Urged For All

Your child can be unhealthy and not know it and this could do him or her a great deal of harm. The State Board of Health said today.

"It is especially important," said Dr. L. L. Parks, director of the Bureau of Maternal and Child Health, "to have a physical examination if the child is starting to school for the first time because the child might have certain defects which could seriously affect the start of his learning."

"Parents should have the child's sight and hearing checked immediately. Many children make low grades - and suffer embarrassment - because they can't hear the teacher's questions or see the blackboard well enough. Often the child doesn't realize what is wrong and will be bewildered and frustrated because of it. Often parents blame low grades on inattention of the child or lack of will or mental ability when the trouble really lies with the eyes or ears."

Dr. Parks said the child should also have a dental checkup in addition to routine vaccinations. "And while you're at it," he said, "it might do no harm to have a physical yourself if it's been some time since you had the last one."

More Help Needed For TB Hospital Legionnaires Say

At a joint meeting of the American Legion, Everglades Post 20 and its Auxiliary on Tuesday night, August 21, the committee reports indicated that the response of the people of the Glades area to the needs of the patients in the Lantana Tuberculosis Hospital was inadequate.

In a letter from the Southeast Florida Tuberculosis Hospital, received by Everglades Post 20 this past week in thanks for toilet articles donated by this Post and Auxiliary Unit, it was stated that help to the patients in this hospital must come entirely from donations as there are no state or local funds set aside for this purpose. It was the general feeling among the Auxiliary members that many people have men's pajamas in their homes that would be very welcome by the patients in this hospital.

The blood typing program was a mild success. Another typing date will be set in the near future after the street has been replaced on Southeast Avenue D.

The Auxiliary served refreshments to all Legion and Auxiliary members after the meeting was adjourned.

To celebrate the 25th Anniversary of south Florida's cross-state Okeechobee Waterway, the newly re-activated Okeechobee Waterway Association plans on November 15-17 a dramatic Boat-A-Cade starting at the Atlantic Ocean and finishing at the Gulf of Mexico. The Boat-A-Cade is a cruise signaled the opening of the 125-nautical mile waterway 25 years ago in 1937.

The memorial cruise will originate in Stuart, on the Atlantic end of the waterway and conclude at Fort Myers on the Gulf Coast. Mid-point overnight stop will be at Clewiston on the south shore of Lake Okeechobee, with enroute calls at ports in Indiantown, Canal Point, Pahokee, Belle Glade, South Bay, Lake Harbor, Moore Haven and LaBelle.

The fleet will assemble in Stuart November 15, where a cruise dinner and kick-off celebration will be staged that night, with the boats showing off on the first day's run the morning of November 16. Clewiston will stage the welcoming ceremonies and dinner the 16th, with departure for Fort Myers early November 17. At Fort Myers big municipal marina and adjacent Exhibition Hall, concluding ceremonies and banquet will be organized for the night of November 17.

According to the Boat-A-Cade Committee, of which Nat Howell, Fort Myers, is chairman, all cities along the Waterway will be assisted in planning a special Okeechobee Waterway Day featuring nautical activities both recreational and commercial. The passing of the cross-state Boat-A-Cade will be a feature of the local programs.

Scenic Trip The Okeechobee Waterway has its Atlantic gateway at Stuart, where the St. Lucie River connects with the Indian River Inland Waterway of the Atlantic coast. From Stuart, the Waterway proceeds through the St. Lucie River, the South Fork of the St. Lucie, the St. Lucie Canal, and across Lake Okeechobee into the Caloosahatchee Canal, thence through the Caloosahatchee River to the Gulf. There is a controlling depth of 12 feet, three locks and 20 bridges to be negotiated.

A registered and interested in securing passenger service for the Boat-A-Cade may contact the Okeechobee Waterway Association, P. O. Box 1311, Fort Myers. The president is Paul Franklin, Fort Myers; vice-presidents are S. D. Fry, Clewiston and Charles H. Kindred, Stuart; Secretary is Don Bortoff, Fort Myers and Treasurer is Charles D. Godlett, Belle Glade.

The People Speak

Consensus of opinion of the man on the street following Tuesday's straw vote boils down to one thing only . . . let's get busy NOW and DO SOMETHING!
 This was the unanimous expression of members of Southwest Palm Beach County Board on Wednesday morning as well.
 Regardless of which issue of the question one voted for, every vote cast was asking for improved medical facilities and services. By deciding a course of direction, the people have expressed a strong opinion and desire to now proceed rapidly toward improvement of medical services in our area.
 This, then, becomes our issue of togetherness . . . the strong binding thread of our community thinking.
 To accomplish this goal our Hospital board and staff need our cooperation and understanding, as well as the same continuation of interest displayed so strongly in recent weeks.
 Communities exist and progress in direct proportion to the will and strength of their citizens. By virtue of the secret ballot the American people possess a power which dictators never acquired.
 Needed now is a spirit of humility in working together . . . by citizens, doctors, hospital staffs and administrations. The voting is over but the cause not yet won.
 Let the voice of the people truly be heard . . . and may we continue enthusiasm back up that voice . . . and may we all be mindful that "together we stand, divided we fall."

Pork Chop Justice

Much has been said and written in recent years about unfairness, selfishness, pork chopism, dictatorialism, many other adjectives describing various decisions and actions taken by the Florida Senate, controlled by the small county bloc, otherwise called the pork chop gang.
 It, therefore, must have come as a shock to some South Florida citizens and particularly the members of the Republican party, when this group over-ruled Governor Bryant recently, and reinstated Sheriff Kellenger to his office as sheriff of Palm Beach County.
 It is all the more remarkable because the Senate traditionally has upheld Governor's suspensions as a matter of course. Suspensions are normally acted upon at regular sessions and behind closed doors in executive session. The public has no way of knowing how individuals voted and the Senators usually keep silent on the results.
 All reports indicate the hearing was held on a high level before a Senator Committee of five senators. The evidence was weighed fairly and a recommendation to reinstate the sheriff was made to the full Senate body. The decision was in favor of reinstating. It is therefore reassuring to know that the Senate is not ogres as they have been painted, and are not backward in upholding individual's rights, should they feel they have been infringed upon.

In 7/10ths of a Second! How Fast Can You Die In A Speeding Car?

Last year, 38,200 persons perished in traffic accidents in this country alone. That's an average of one such fatal tragedy every 14 minutes. Here is UPI's slow-motion, split-second reconstruction of what happens when a car, traveling 55 miles an hour, crashes into a solid, immovable tree:
 1/10th of a second:
 The front bumper and chrome "frothing" of the grillwork collapse. Slivers of steel penetrate the tree to a depth of 1 and one-half inches.
 2/10th of a second:
 The blood rises, crumples, smashes into the windshield. Spinning rear wheels leave the ground. The fenders come into contact with the tree, forcing the rear parts out over the front doors. The driver's body continues to move forward at the vehicle's original speed (30 times the normal force of gravity, his body weighs 3,200 pounds). His legs, ramrod straight, snap at the knee joints.
 3/10th of a second:
 The driver's body is now off the seat, torso upright, broken knees pressing against the dash board. The plastic and steel frame of the steering wheel begins to bend under his terrible death grip. His head is now near the sun visor, his chest above the steering column.
 4/10th of a second:
 The car's front 24 inches have been demolished, but the rear end is still traveling at about 35 miles per hour. The driver's body is still traveling 55 miles per hour. The half-ton motor block crumples into the tree.
 5/10th of a second:
 The driver's frozen hand bends the steering column into an almost vertical position. The force of gravity impales him on the steering shaft. Jagged steel punctures lung and internal arteries. Blood spurts into his lungs.
 6/10th of a second:
 The driver's feet are ripped from the tightly-laced shoes. The brake pedal shears off at the floor boards. The chassis bends in the middle, shearing body bolts. The driver's head smashes into the windshield. The rear of the car begins its downward fall, spinning wheels digging into the ground.
 7/10th of a second:
 The entire, writhing body of the car is forced out of shape. Hinges tear, doors spring open. In one last convulsion, the seat rams forward, pinning the driver against the cruel steel of the steering shaft. Blood leaps from his mouth, shock has frozen his heart. He is now dead.
 Time elapsed, seven-tenths of a second.
 Terrifying? But True! Don't Let It Happen To You!

GETTING THE MESSAGE

Senior Senator Holland Says:

The Senate has spent nearly ten days all told in consideration of the Administration's Satellite Communications bill. The debate became particularly interesting because of the vivid demonstration by Telstar of the opportunities in this field.
 A group of so-called liberal Senators who generally oppose filibustering waged quite a determined filibuster against even taking up the bill. This was terminated only after agreement had been reached to refer the measure to the third committee to consider the matter . . . the Foreign Relations Committee . . . with instructions that the bill be reported back by noon yesterday, August 10. Inasmuch as the bill had already been carefully examined and subject to extensive hearings by two standing committees, the Space Committee, of which I am a member, and the Commerce Committee both of which had reported the legislation favorably by a combined vote of 30 - 2, and since an overwhelming majority of the Foreign Relations Committee also favored the bill, I believe that only a few more days of debate will be required for passage. I strongly support passage.
 I feel that the Senate has acted like a small boy with a new and shiny toy, and who doesn't quite know what to do with it, as we debate, delay and fumble over establishing an organization for the development and peaceful use of the proven satellite potentialities for improved world - wide telephone, radio television communications. While we talk, Telstar, a product of the ingenuity and know-how of our American scientists and manufacturers, gives the world an amazing demonstration of the ability of private enterprise and government to work together under our American system.

Pioneer L. E. Will Tells Of '28 Storm On TV Civic Program

With authority acquired by one who was there, pioneer Lawrence E. Will told TV viewers all about hurricanes on station WFLA channel 12, on the Lauri, Oly and Eve show from 12 to 1:00 last Sunday noon.
 He gave an eyewitness account of the '28 hurricane, the Nation's third largest calamity, when 2,000 persons perished in one hour.
 Mr. Will effectively explained that building of the Hoover dike has eliminated the possibility of any such tragedy re-occurring in the Glades area.
 In January of last year Mr. Will's book, "Okaloosa Hurricane and the Hoover Dike" magazine, stands.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1902... the same year that

IN FLORIDA, citizens were wading the blockade of the Union Navy, by using small boats to bring in essential weapons and supplies for the Confederate armies. After each successful blockade run, many men celebrated with well-earned glasses of beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. But beer means more than enjoyment in our state. The Brewing Industry contributes more than $5 million tax dollars to Florida each year—money that helps support our hospitals, schools, and highways.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

"Important Men Of The Past"

By Jeanne Ayres

Age 11
Men of the past were presidents,
And scientists were a few;
George Washington was a
president,
And Abraham Lincoln too.

Some were great inventors,
In science they did best;
Thomas Edison was an inventor,
The light bulb he did test.

Some patented their inventions,
And some we use today;
Teddy Roosevelt was a rough
rider,
As history books do say.

George Washington was truthful,
As we can surely see;
He told his Father when he,
Chopped down the cherry tree.

This boy was a backwoodsman
Abe Lincoln was his name;
He was a famous president,
In the White House he won fame.

Franklin Roosevelt was a
president,
As all of you must know;
And he was elected,
Four times in a row.

Herbert Hoover was an engineer
Before he was elected;
When he was a president,

He was very highly respected.

Harry Truman went to office,
When he was sixty years old;
He served our country very well,
So we all are told.

Dwight Eisenhower was a Soldier,
With a uniform bright and new;
He became a president,
When he was sixty-two.

John Adams was a lawyer,
Then for president he did run;
Then when he was elected,
He was sixty-one.

All of them weren't presidents.
Or scientists you know;
Some were famous poets,
Like Longfellow or Poe.

There is a famous poem,
About a tree so tall;
But some of the most famous
poems,
Do not rhyme at all.

There was a famous artist,
Of him you all must know;
He painted a famous cathedral,
He's Michael Angelo.

All of them weren't brilliant,
Some were brave and bold;
They fought dragons and burnt
witches,
Like famous knights of old.

Not every man was famous,
Some passed away the hours;
But every man was important,
In this great land of ours.

Federal Court Delays Final Ruling On Florida Reapportionment Plan

Meeting on Monday, August 21, in Miami, a three man Federal Court recessed until Friday of this week to hear further arguments regarding the 46 Senator - 135 Member House plan passed by the Florida legislature in their recent special session.

The Court said they would allow this extra time in order that the state and the appellants could file additional briefs in support of their position.

A number of legislators from over the state, as well as many interested citizens, attended the hearing. The court now in all probability will not make a ruling before next week.

The Florida Legislature adjourned Saturday night August 11th after meeting for ten days in a special session to consider reapportionment formal legislation. The bill they passed called for 46 Senators and 135 House members.

The special session had been called by the Governor after a three man Federal court in Miami had ruled that the present reapportionment formal in the Florida constitution discriminated against the more populous counties of the state. For a number of years the larger counties have tried to

Rep. Roberts Speaks To Bankers' Group

State Representative Emmett Roberts spoke Tuesday, Aug. 21, to the Palm Beach County Bankers' Association at their regular monthly meeting at the Holiday Inn in Palm Beach.

Roberts speaking on the "Reapportionment" of the State Legislature, declared that the changes from a rural economy to an urban economy in many areas of the United States and Florida, has necessitated a need of more representation for populous counties because of increasing urban problems.

Although it was surprising to see the entry of the courts into States' rights.

'Swim And Stay Fit' Program Open To Participants Of All Ages

Eight of the 54 participating students completed the first phase of the Red Cross "Swim and Stay Fit" program, underway at Belle Glade Municipal pool since June 18th.

Of the group, one, Alice Ferinden was awarded the Red Cross swimmer's certificate for her 50-mile accomplishment. Alice 15, and a sophomore this year at Daytona Beach, has spent the summer here with her brother coach Ferinden and made excellent progress. "It's wonderful to see how much the course has done for her," the coach said, going on to explain that this is the purpose of the program — physical fitness.

Seven other students (see photo page 1) received achievement cards on their 10-mile accomplishment.

Swim For Health

Swimming has long been recognized as one of the best activities for building and maintaining strength and vigor.

Swim and Stay Fit is a planned activity sponsored by The American Red Cross to promote the physical fitness of all Americans. Individuals are encouraged to swim regularly and frequently until 50 or more miles are reached. It is hoped that upon completion of the program's goal of 50 miles the swimmer will find himself in such excellent physical condition that he will be motivated to continue a personal program of regular and frequent swimming.

The values of swimming are numerous. Swimming can be beneficial to the mind as well as to the body. It is meant not only for those of superior athletic ability, but also for those with lesser ability.

Swimming can improve circulation and control of body movements, promote deeper breathing, strengthen abdominal muscles, develop or maintain organic strength and vigor, increase movement within the joints, and release tensions.

Who May Enroll

Any person possessing reasonable swimming ability is eligible to register for and participate in the program.

Accomplishments for this season will allow the student to pick up at that point next summer in working toward the 50-mile goal.

Anyone from eight years up — all the way up — are eligible to enroll in the course.

To register in the program the individual requests that his name be placed on the wall chart at the pool. Once enrolled the student may go anytime the pool is open. Before swimming, each participant should report to the monitor that he intends to swim a part of the distance.

The conclusion of each swim the record of achievement is charted on the wall. Records from the end of this season will be stored and put up again at the beginning of next season for participant's continuation of the course.
